The impact of low solar container battery capacity on the inverter

This change has no impact in the system's current behaviour. Is the preposition in grammatical here? I think we should have used on instead: This change has no impact on the ...

Nowadays, we often see the word impact being used as a verb. My question is, should it be always followed by the preposition on? Oxford Dictionaries gives the following ...

Is there a grammarians' consensus as to the usage of impact (as a verb)? Should it always take the preposition on or is it a matter of personal preference?

As a note, I would find the transitive use, "The court ruling will impact the education of minority students," to be perfectly clear, but the intransitive use, "The court ruling ...
